

By visiting and using the website www.TheWoolfer.com, you are accepting the privacy policies included below. From time to time we may make updates to these policies which will be accessible from the Privacy Policy page of The Woolfer web site.

What Would Virginia Woolf Do? LLC reserves the right to use the comments and questions that may appear on our site, anonymously, in any medium. No content on our site may be reused in any way without our written permission.

Our site uses cookies and other tracking tools to feature ads that are relevant to you based on your browsing history. Some of our advertising partners and affiliate partners may use cookies on our site, too.

If you register with our site, your email address will be stored in our system but not used for any purposes except as to verify who you are when you comment. If you enter one of our contests or a giveaway, you are agreeing to opt into our subscriber list as one of the conditions of entry. You may unsubscribe from our email list by clicking the unsubscribe button at the bottom of each email.

WWVWD may also request additional information such as age, buying preferences, annual income, or other demographic or profile information. We use this information to better tailor our content and improve the experience on our site. We may also share this information with third parties, such as advertisers, but only in aggregate, anonymous form.

As a curator of the best possible information, WWVWD sometimes links out to other sites. We are not responsible for any content that appears on these sites, nor do we endorse them. For questions about these sites, please consult their individual privacy policies.
